

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT WORKSHOP REGISTRATION FORM

Date of Registration _____

- Selecting and Integrating Quality Literature and Art Resources into the Curriculum* with Floyd Dickman, September 24, 4 p.m. to 7 p.m., Findlay High School Library (registration is encouraged by September 21, 2009). Integrates visual art and music with language arts, math, science, and social studies. For teachers, librarians, and administrators of grades pre-K -12.
- Integrating Visual Art with the Curriculum* with Bob Barner, November 5, 2009, 4 p.m. to 7 p.m., Mazza Museum, The University of Findlay (registration is encouraged by November 2, 2009). Integrates visual art and music with life science. For teachers of grades K-3.
- Dividing Time/Dividing Space: A Study of Increments, Ratios, and Proportions using Music and Movement* with Terry Boyarsky, February 23, 2010, 4 p.m. to 7 p.m., First Presbyterian Church (registration is encouraged by February 19, 2010). Integrates music and movement with math. For teachers of grades 2-6.

All professional development workshops are FREE to educators in Findlay City and Hancock County Schools and University of Findlay educators and pre-service educators. Cost is $10.00 for all other attendees. Please make checks payable to The Arts Partnership; do not enclose cash. No refunds. All attendees earn three contact hours; light refreshments are served. All workshops are ADA accessible.

In addition The University of Findlay offers one semester hour of graduate credit (for $212) for those attending all three workshops and submitting lesson plans or a grant proposal. Registration forms will be available at the November 5 workshop. For graduate credit information contact Dave Rossman at rossman@findlay.edu.

Name _____

School _____ Grade Level /Subject _____

Mailing Address _____

Phone _____ e-mail Address _____

To register, complete and return to Peggy Grandbois, Education Director at 618 S. Main St., Findlay, OH 45840 or fax to 419-424-9103. For additional information call 419-422-3412, ext. 24 or education@artspartnership.com.